BRIBERY INQUIRY NOW IN CHICAGO

Illinois Legislature, Railroad and City Council Are Involved.

CAUSED BY SUIT IN COURT

Anywhere From $60,000 to Treble That Amount Mentioned in the Matter—Action of State's Attorney—Details.

Chicago, April 29.—Investigation of a bribery scandal, involving the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad, the Illinois Legislature of years ago, the city council of Chicago, and sums of money that may run anywhere between $60,000 and treble that amount, was ordered by State's Attorney Wayman today.

The State's attorney ordered the empannelling of a special grand jury to conduct the investigation.

The trouble has been brewing for months. The State's attorney's action today, is based on allegations made by John C. Fetzer, who was sued today by the Chicago & Western Indiana for the return of $525,000, which the railroad company avers, Fetzer defrauded the company out of in real estate transactions. Fetzer in turn has asked for an injunction to enjoin the prosecution of this suit, alleging that parts of the money which the road seeks to recover went to influence legislation at Springfield and Chicago.

In asking for the special grand jury, State's attorney Wayman's petition states: "He (Wayman) further shows the court that on the 28th day of April A. D. 1910, a certain bill in chancery was filed in the Superior court of Cook county by one John C. Fetzer in which said Fetzer claims that large amounts of money in his possession, but really the property of the Chicago & Western Indiana Railroad Company, were used for unlawfu purposes of bribing public officials."

Fetzer's bill for an injunction included, as an exhibit, a letter from F. A. Deano, president of the Wabash Railroad, and representative of that road on the board of directors of the Chicago & Western Indiana. This letter reads:

"Dear Sir:—I enclose a letter from Mr. C. N. Travous, which explains itself. This is written as a result of a conference which Mr. Travous had with Judge Henley at the time we sold our notes to the Boston parties. I believe we should in a quiet way, get the legislation which Judge Henley and our counsel concluded is desirable. It is a bad thing to have something of this kind brought up by the bankers every time we have to do any negotiation for the sale of securities. It might give us very serious trouble. We had a case of this kind on the Burling, where a rather unscrupulous lawyer got hold of a technicality of this kind and gave us a great deal of trouble."

According to a statement dictated by Mr. Delano today the meaning of his letter to Mr. Thomas would stand out in innocuous innocence had Mr. Fetzer also appended the letter of Mr. Travous.

"The important thing for the public to remember in this story of a 'slush' fund is gotten up by Fetzer or his counsel to divert public attention from the real issue," declared Mr. Delano. "The Chicago & Western Indiana was robbed and it demanded restitution of its money. It is no adequate defense to say that this money though stolen, was used for the benefit of the railroad company in corrupting the legislature or the city council or any one else. I feel confident that no such use was made of the money, but if it were, that is the more reason for thoroughly ventilating the case."

Members of the aldermanic body are said to have been sounded in connection with procuring land for the right of way into Chicago.

Ruth Bryan Leavitt and Reginald Owen

Lincoln, Neb., April 29.—The marriage of Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, to Reginald Owen of the British Royal engineers will be held here May 3. After the ceremony the couple will leave for the ancestral halls of the groom in England. The marriage will be the culmination of a romance of short duration and that has been conducted very quietly. In March, 1909, Mrs. Leavitt obtained a divorce from her artist husband, William Horner Leavitt, almost twice her age whom she married seven years ago when she was just 18 years old. Mrs. Leavitt met Reginald Owen first in Colorado late last Summer. He was visiting relatives there. It was a case of "love at first sight." Reginald Owen belongs to a family of Welsh descent that for several generations has been prominent in the affairs of the Church of England. His paternal grandfather and great-grandfather, both of whom were named John Owen, were dignitaries of the church and were conspicuously identified with its history in Ceylon. In that colony Reginald Owen, now 26 years old, was born and lived until he was sent to England by his father, also named John Owen, to be educated. He won distinction a few years ago while he had charge of important telegraph work for his government in Ireland. He is a strapping fellow, over six feet tall, of athletic figure and soldierly bearing. The bulk of his family estate is in Ceylon. His father, a widower, now resides in London, where he is on a dozen or more boards of English companies chartered to do business in Great Britain's eastern possessions. After a brief stay in Europe Mr. and Mrs. Owen will return to the husband's station in the West Indies.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE SPEAKS

Address Yesterday on "Educational Advancement in United States" Before Students of University of Kansas—Life's Work.

Lawrence, Kan., April 29.—"Three fourths of the mistakes that a man makes are made because he does not really know the thing he thinks he knows," said James Bryce, ambassador from Great Brittain, in an address delivered here today to the students of the University of Kansas. Mr. Bryce urged upon his hearers the necessity of knowing history, ancient as well as modern, and said the habit of sound, careful and independent thinking was the best intellectual quality a young man could start with in his life's journey.

Mr. Bryce's subject was "The Educational Advancement in the United States." He paid special tribute to the universities of this country, saying that there was nothing in this country which he noted with greater pleasure than the continued advance of American colleges and universities.

The last 30 years, Mr. Bryce said, had seen the establishment and development by the State Legislatures of a large number of State institutions of higher education, to which annually liberal grants of money were made. This witnessed to the enlightened wisdom and zeal of the State authorities, who rightly thought that nothing better could be done for the youth of the State than to place before them the amplest facilities for prosecuting every kind of study. The appropriation of such facilities was shown, he said, by the large and constantly increasing attendance not only at the universities and technical colleges supported by the States, but also at the colleges of private foundation.

Mr. Bryce said he loved the American universities; he admired the earnestness which the teachers threw into their work, often insufficiently remunerated. He expected great results from the diffusion of knowledge among all classes of the people, and believed that many men of natural gifts who might otherwise have been left with out adequate training would be thus enabled not only to succeed in life but also to render admirable service to the community as writers and teachers and workers for the public good. There was, he believed, no other country in the world in which so large a proportion of the young men and women were now receiving education of the University type as here in the United States. CARRAWAY CASE CONCLUDED

No Evidence Introduced by Defense—Charge of Judge Connor Completed After an All-Day of Argument—Speculation.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., April 29.—On the opening of Federal court this morning counsel for the defendant in the Carraway case announced that they would offer no evidence and the entire day was taken up with the argument of counsel.

For the defendant Messrs. William Dunn, Jr., Mr. E. M. Green and Mr. L. I. Moore spoke, while the government was represented by Assistant District Attorney J. A. Siles and District Attorney H. F. Seawell. The argument was concluded about 6 o'clock by Mr. Moore and his Honor, Judge Connor, at once began his charge.

Judge Connor did not allow the jury to consider but one of the three counts of embezzlement—that of Lassiter's $1,000 check. He asked the jury to divide the charges into three heads and render a verdict under each division. He asked that the counts be made under embezzlement, under misappropriation of funds and under false entry and that a verdict be rendered under each of those charges. His Honor's charge was very fair to the defendant and full and able. The entire court room was packed all day and the interest was intense. A good part of the audience consisted of ladies, who have taken much interest in the trial. There is much speculation as to the verdict.

They were escorted from the frontier station at Roosendaal to Het Loo, where at the royal chateu they were received by Queen Wilhelmina.

The Queen and Prince Henry awaited their guests in the entrance hall of the palace, and their greetings were most cordial. A few moments later luncheon was served.

The lavishly gilded coach used by the royal family upon gala occasions, has been placed by the Queen at the disposal of Col. Roosevelt during his stay here.

EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION

Virginia Body Elects Chas. G. Maphis as Permanent Secretary.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—At a meeting of the Virginia Educational Commission held here today it was decided to elect a permanent secretary, and Charles G. Maphis, of Charlottesville, a member of the State board of school examiners and inspectors, was unanimously chosen to fill the position. The purpose of the commission, according to the statute creating the body, is to devise a staple method for the maintenance, management and expansion of the educational institutions of the State."

It had realized that the present method of supplying money to those institutions supported in whole or in part by the State, which is legislative wholly, is undesirable and the principal part of Mr. Haphis' duties will be to devise some plan of raising money for educational purposes, by a separate fund, such as the mill tax, which is in vogue in other States, for example, and in this way to provide a more stable supply and to avoid the lobbying and log-rolling before legislative committees which are now necessary.

Mr. Maphis has been registrar of the Summer school at the University of Virginia, since its organization.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—Captain Charles H. Consolvo, of Norfolk, was today commissioned by Adjutant General Sale to be paymaster-general of the Virginia Militia, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. The appointment is effective at once. Colonel Consolve has been serving as quartermaster of the Fourth Virginia Regiment on the staff of Colonel Nottingham.

BALLINGER DENIES ANY WRONG DOING

Secretary Bitterly Attacked Critics at Inquiry Yesterday.

ACCUSES GLAVIS OF LYING

Referred to Roosevelt's High Estimate of Him With Apparent Pride—Defended His Conduct in Cunningham Cases.

Washington, April 29.—Indignantly denying that he had been guilty of any wrong doing, Richard A. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior, made a bitter attack upon his critics while a witness before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee today and characterized many of the sworn statements of his principal accuser, L. R. Glavis, as "wilful and deliberate lies."

Led on by his attorney, Mr. Vertrees, the cabinet officer answered, one by one the indictments of those who would destroy him. He referred with apparent pride to Theodore Roosevelt's oft-expressed nigh estimate of him, particularly the former President's statement when he was commissioner of the land office that "he had secured a $25,000 man for $5,000." He defended his conduct in connection with the Cunningham coal cases and stated emphatically that he would take the same action today as he did when at the head of the land office if he had the same record before him.

After leaving the land office, Mr. Ballinger declared his only connection with the Cunningham cases was in bringing East from Seattle an affidavit of Clarence Cunningham and presenting it to Secretary Garfield. For this service he said he had received $200 or $250 which he regarded as traveling expenses. He said he refused to pass upon the claims in any way.

Attorney Vertrees still has to examine Mr. Ballinger on the subject of water power sites before turning him over to Mr. Brandeis, counsel for Glavis and Mr. Pepper, attorney for Pinchot, for cross-examination.

The Secretary's testimony today dealt almost exclusively with the Glavis charges; tomorrow it will embrace his attitude toward conservation and the beginning of his controversy with Forester Pinchot. "The defense" hopes to conclude by noon tomorrow. If this hope is realized, Mr. Brandeis will have Mr. Ballinger in hand all afternoon.

NO RELEASE FOR MRS. SNEAD

Judge Lanning Dismissed Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Trenton, N. J., April 29.—United States Circuit Court Judge Lanning today dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Mrs. Mary Snead to secure her release from the Essex county jail. The woman, it is charged, had a guilty knowledge of the alleged murder of Ocey W. Snead, who was found dead in a bath tub in East Orange last September.

The judge in rendering his decision said that when a person charged with high crime is within the custody and jurisdiction of a State, the State may proceed to try and punish the defendant even though unlawful violence and abuse of legal process was resorted to in getting the person before the court. This decision is aimed at the contention of Mrs. Snead's counsel that improper methods were used to deceive Governors Fort and Hughes in securing the woman's extradition from New York to New Jersey.

The court decided in favor of the State in several other contentions raised in the proceedings and Mrs. Sneak was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Harrigan to await the opening of her trial.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND BALES

Swallowed Up by Bull Clique in New York Yesterday Without so Much as a Tremor—Gossip of the Exchange.

New York, April 29.—Two hundred thousand bales of cotton were swallowed by the bull clique on the New York Cotton Exchange on this, the first day of May "notices" without so much a a tremor, $15,000,000 it is estimated went from bull pockets in the course of transactions, but so easy was the cotton absorbed that, after a preliminary flurry there was no great excitement. At the end of the day's operations, the bull leaders—Patten, Scales, Hayne and Brown—were apparently more strongly entrenched than ever. Transactions were twice as large as any previous day's business in the history of the exchange.

Inasmuch as the shorts have until May 31st to meet their contracts, it had been predicted by some that today's transactions would represent only a part of the cotton to be delivered, but as the day progressed it was the opinion in the trade that the bulk of the staple they must produce was concerned. Although the Big Four are known to have cleared a large sum, no authoritative estimates of the amount could be obtained. None of the bull leaders would indicate the amount of cotton which he had under contract, or which was to be delivered on Monday. Their ultimate profits will depend largely on their success in disposing of their holdings to spinners. Nevertheless, the May situation is regarded as being fairly well cleared up and it is expected that the bulls will turn to the July market in which they are already heavily long, with the hope of repeating short successful operations.

The first May notice day had been looked forward to for more than a month as likely to prove a severe test of the bull campaign, but it is not regarded as a final test of the ability of the short interests to deliver cotton on all contracts held by the bull leaders. The interest short of May have until the end of that month to make good their contracts, but it is felt that any shorts now remaining must either be portected by cotton available for delivery here late in the month, or very strongly financed.

At the opening today May contracts sold at 14.60 compared with 14.50 at the colse yesterday. The quotation quic..y advanced to 14.80 an covering by scattered shorts, who found that the notices were being promptly stopped, and then reacted to 14.71 under realizing. The excitement which had attended the opening subsided somewhat when it was found that the bull leaders were prepared to accept delivery, as the scattering interests on both sides had been pretty well eliminated during the recent period of violent fluctuations.

DEFEATED PHASE OF RAILROAD BILL

Voted on Agreement Provision in Senate Yesterday.

WAS CUMMINS' SUBSTITUTE

Conceded to be Test of Strength of Contending Sides—Most Important Sub-Division of the Pending Measure.

Washington, April 29.—By the decisive vote of 35 to 29 and in the midst of intense excitement, the administration Republicans today defeated the Cummins substitute for the Crawford-Elkins traffic agreement provision of the railroad bill. This question had practically monopolized the attention of the Senate for the past week and was regarded as one of the most important sub-divisions of the pending bill.

The vote is generally accepted as a test of the strength of the contending sides respectively, and it is believed that it presages the passage of the bill by a safe majority. Of the total membership of 92, there were 28 Senators who did not vote, and of these four were absent without being paired, and all of these were Democrats.

Only 18 Democratic votes were cast, and these together with 11 Republicans, who voted for the Cummins substitute, consisted the entire affirmative vote.

Immediately after the result was announced, Senator Cummins, whose provision had been voted down, gave notice of another amendment intended to accomplish the same purpose.

There is a general understanding that voting will be resumed tomorrow. The voting stage was not reached until late in the day.

Senator LaFollette in a speech made a plea against the annulment of the Sherman anti-trust law as applicable to the railroads, without supplying adequate protection in its absence. In many respects it was a remarkable speech.

Declaring that the standard in the Senate had declined since 1890 when the anti-trust law was enacted, and asserting that law to be, next to the constitution, the principal bulwark of the liberties of the people, Mr. LaFollette warned his colleagues, and especially Western Senators against the first effort to impair the law.

Victory for Administration.

The test vote on the railroad bill was had in the Senate today and resulted in a victory for the administration members. The Cummins' amendment, which would require all traffic agreements made between railroads, and all rates, fares and charges to be approved in advance by the Interstate Commerce Commission, was defeated by a vote of 29 to 35. Eleven Republicans, most of them from the Insurgent ranks and 18 Democrats voted for the Cummins' provision. All of the votes against it were cast by Republicans.

The Cummins provision was offered as a substitute for an amendment introduced by Senator Crawford, which was favored by the Senators supporting the administration bill. The Insurgents and Democrats contended that the purpose of the Crawford provision was to take the railroads out from under the Sherman anti-trust law. It would permit traffic agreements to be made with the approval of the commission, but would not require that each rate, fare and charge be submitted to the commission in advance of its going into effect.

Those who opposed the Crawford provision will seek other opportunities to amend it before permitting a vote. The administration Senators hope to dispose of the entire section tomorrow.

Railroad Bill in House.

In the House the Railroad bill was under consideration also. Numerous amendments were offered, most of which were voted down. An amendment making provision that the physical valuation of railroad property shall be ascertained was offered by Mr. Martin, of Illinois, and adopted after an extended discussion.

The provision adopted yesterday for the inclusion of telegraph and telephone companies with in the scope of the inter-State law, was today further amended so as to permit of different charges being made for press dispatches and for night messages than are made for commercial dispatches.

CAROLINA WINS CLOSE GAME.

Defeated Wake Forest in Best Game of Season at Chapel Hill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chepel Hill, N. C., April 29.—In about the fastest game of ball played on the hill this year Wake Forest went down in defeat before the strong Carolina aggregation by the score of 1 to 0. The score should have stood much larger in Carolina's favor and only sharp fielding on the part of Daniels' team mates saved him several more hits off his delivery than are registered. The Tar Heels hit the ball unmercifully, but unfortunately could not direct their drives and hit every time in a waiting fielder's hands, this accounting for the small numbe. of hits by Carolina.

The decided feature of the game was the pitching of Hedgepeth, for Carolina, the giant southpaw, having the Baptists completely at his mercy, striking out ten men and not allowing them a single hit. Only four men reached first and two of these were promptly caught by Buie's sure peg. One was safe on a fielder's choice, another on the only error of the game, the third man walked and the fourth lucky one was hit by the ball. In the eighth inning a man was advanced to third and a second one the base on balls, a steal, and a fielder's choice, but the next two men poped out, and there was no score. Carolina's run come in the fifth when Rose first up singled to center and was sacrificed to second and third and after Hamilton had gotten on by being hit with the ball, he scored on Williams' drive to right center. This proved the only tally of the game.

The features were, besides the pitching of Hedgpeth, the fast fielding of the visitors, remarkable catches by Rose and Hamilton, and Utley for the visitors and the all round playing of Armstrong, who batted 1,000 for Carolina and accepted six hard chances on third, making five of them good. The score:

Wake Forest	000	000	000	0	7 0
Carolina	000	010	00*	1	4 2

Batteries: Daniels and Watkins; Hedgpeth and Buie.

Summary: Struck out by Daniels 1, by Hedpeth 10; hit by pitched ball, Brett, Hamilton; sacrifice hits, Armstrong and Buie; double plays, White to Brett to Edwards; Brett to Edwards to White. Time, 1:30. Umpire, Rummy Wrenn.

The Washington and Lee track team arrived tonight to compete for honors with the University team on cinder path tomorrow. The Carolina team is in good condition as are the visitors and a good meet is expected.

FAYETTEVILLE ABOUT READY.

Old Players Being Signed—Another Good Team is Assured.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., April 29.—With the opening of the Eastern North Carolina baseball season drawing near, the local situation is beginning to "shape-up" with some clarity. The announcement most interesting to local fans is that John Waymack, of the Richmond Virginia League Club, who, while with Rocky Mount last year, was one of the best pitchers in the league has signed a Fayetteville contract. Sorrell, formerly of Rocky Mount, has also been signed by the local management. Another valuable acquisition by Manager Clancy is that of Jack Mullin for the past three years a consistent performer in the South Atlantic League. Mullin, by report, is a fast out-fielder and a hard left-hand hitter, and should undoubtedly give added strength to the Highlanders' outer works. If the fleet-footed Clemens returns—and it is probable he will—this outfield, composed of Mullin, Clemens and Schumaker, should exhibit some class, both in the fielding and sticking line. Sorrell also is a hard swatter and is an all-round player. He will probably be placed on third base, though there will be a bunch of candidates for that infield position, some of them frisky youngsters too.

Every fan on the Eastern Carolina circuit knows Waymack. If he sticks anything like his last season pace, he will make a strong running mate for Luyster, the mound king of the league. As a further addition to his pitching strength owner G. H. Napier has purchased R. C. (Click) Watters from Anderson of the Carolina Association, by which club he was held under reserve. He too is known in these parts as a good twirler. From an official statement it is certain that, including Manager Charley Clancey, who is now in the city, there will return at least six members of the old guard that so brilliantly closed the past season for Fayetteville, losing but four of the at least 28 games played. Those who have accepted terms are Schumaker, outfielder and champion batter of the league, who is now here, having wintered in this city, who did such brilliant work behind the bat last year; O'Halloran, who played the utility role in the season past, but who will contend this Spring for second base, at which position he has been trying out with the Baltimore Orioles; Watters and Luyster. The last named also Wintered here, but has just returned from a trip home. The new players who have been signed are: Boyle, a pitcher, who has been with Providence, Eastern League; John Chaney, college infielder from Boston; Sanchez, of Atlanta, outfielder; Albert, of York, Pa., outfielder, and Cantwell, of Worcester, and outfielder, recommended by a major league umpire.

In addition to these there are a number of youngsters to be tried out, who will swell the squad to report here to about 20 men. All will be on hand by May 4th.

Practice games have been arranged with the Atlantic Christian College and the Mechanics, of Columbia.

TO PITCH FOR RALEIGH

Sam Richardson Passes Through His Home Town en Route.

Charleston, S. C., April 29.—The Post this afternoon says:

Sammy Richardson, one of Charleston's star baseball players and a clever vaudeville artist, is visiting his home for a week or two, on his way from Tampa to Raleigh, where he will pitch for King Kelly's bloods, in the Eastern Carolina League this season.

"Sammuel weighs 182 pounds and is in the pink of condition, after a season in the Florida State League, playing with Tampa, which came out second, and which was a fast aggregation of trained baseball players. He took part in ninety-four games, and batter .262, with first base as his special charge. He also pitched in four game, and won them all. Playing ball in the daytime, Sammy put in time at night in vaudeville parts, and made as heavy a hit at this as he did at baseball. The Eastern Carolina League will open on May 15th, and at that time Sammy will be on the mound for Raleigh."

QUIET AT JEFFRIES' CAMP.

Papke and Armstrong Entertained Visitors With Bout.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 29.—Jim Jeffries' camp was unusually quiet today. Aside from a boxing bout between Billy Papke and Bob Armstrong visitors saw nothing Early in the morning Jeffries started up stream with Jack Wooley on a fishing trip, which lasted all day. His back was reported to be much better, but to this affliction is attributed his failure to appear in the gymnasium today.

He covered probably ten miles while fishing up and down stream. On returning to camp Jeffries declared that tomorrow would see him back at routine work.

THE STATE IN EPITOME

News, Comment and Incidents as Reflected in North Carolina.

THE DAY IN RALEIGH.

Officials Out--Wyatt Monument--Democratic Mass Meeting.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—Governor Kitchin spent today in Raeford, being there to deliver an address in connection with the closing exercises of the Raeford High School.

Hon. J. Y. Joyner has gone to Atlanta to deliver an address before the Georgia State Teachers' Association in session there this week.

Barnes & Bridgers, mercantile firm of Nashville, Nash county, have filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, the assets being set out to be $7,127, and the liabilities only $2,653.

Steps are to be taken at once to get proposals of designs for a bronze statue of Henry L. Wyatt, first to fall in the Civil war. The legislative appropriation of $2,500 is now available under the terms that it be paid when the Daughters of the Confederacy raise a like amount. State Senator Bassett, Representative Jno. W. Hinsdale, Jr., R. H. Ricks, Mrs. Thad. W. Thrash, Mrs. Josephus Daniels and Miss Margaret Etheridge have been designated as a committee to select the design for a bronze statue to be set up in Capital Square here.

An order is made by Governor Kitchin for a special term of court in Brunswick county, beginning June 6th, continuing one week for the trial of criminal cases, Judge W. R. Allen presiding.

The outlook is for a very large attendance on the Democratic mass meeting for Wake county to be held here Saturday. It is understood that both reform and machine Democrats will go into the meeting with a view to capturing it for their respective policies. Salaries instead of fees for county officers and the general principle of local self government are understood to be the questions that will especially agitate the meeting. The liveliest time Democracy in this county has experienced in years is expected in this meeting.

Notification came today to Commissioner of Insurance J. R. Young, that at Lenoir, Caldwell county, John Bolinger and Dave Underwood, two white men, were today bound over to court in bonds of $1,000 each on the charge of burning the farm barn of J. S. Hatley.

Mr. Armfield, of the law firm of Adams, Jerome & Armfield, Monroe, was a caller at the office of Governor Kitchin today, conferring with reference to appointment of Corporation Commissioner to succeed the late B. F. Aycock. He declined to say in whose interest he was appearing and urges effectively that the Governor do not make public the list of applicants.

WOMAN A BLACKMAILER.

And She Confines Her Operations Solely to Ministers.

(Greenville News, April 29.)

United States Deputy Marshal Thomas W. Vincent has returned from Randolph county where, on Tuesday night he arrested Daisy Caudle, a pretty young white woman, on a warrant charging the use of the United States mails in a scheme for the purpose of defrauding and blackmailing. The Caudle woman is said to have confined her operations solely to ministers and it was through the assistance of Rev. G. T. Milloway, pastor of Burkehead M. P. church, at Winston, that Postoffice Inspector C. H. B. Leonard secured his first working strings. The Caudle woman is alleged to have mailed letters to ministers in Winston, Liberty, Mayodan, High Point, Ashboro and numbers of other places, in which she threatened to report them to the conference on charges of improper relations with her provided a letter was not received by the next mail with a $10 bill enclosed. Whether she got any tens or not is unknown, but it is certain that she tackled the wrong man when she bucked Rev. Milloway.

The woman is said to be about 24 years old, pretty and of sound mind, though her character is said to be questionable. She lives with her parents about two miles from Randleman, and it is also said that they are well-to-do and respectable farming people. At the time the letters were alleged to have been mailed by the woman she was working in an overall factory in High Point, but she has been at home now for more than a month.

Rev. Milloway received the letter in which he was threatened with exposure in case the ten did not come quick more than a month ago, and he immediately reported the matter to the postoffice department. Inspector Leonard was put on the case and with the High Point postmark as a starting point he soon had a skein of circumstantial evidence woven around the Caudle woman that baffled unraveling. With matters standing like this, Rev. Milloway was asked to swear out the warrant, and, this done, Deputy Vincent lost little time in serving it.

M'NINCH MAY NOT RUN.

Rumor Current That Ex-Mayor May Not be After Nomination.

(Charlotte Observer.)

It is generally rumored and credited by many that ex-Mayor S. S. McNinch has notified his Republican friends of his unwillingness to allow his name to be used in connection with the Republican nomination for Congress in the ninth district.

What actuated Mr. McNinch to do this is not known. Maybe it was his desire to avoid dissension in the Republican ranks, and yet again maybe he was moved by personal reasons, and yet again, the rumor may be a fabrication out of the whole cloth and Mr. McNinch may be just as keen after the nomination today as he was six weeks ago. The whole affair is problematical, Mr. McNinch refusing to say a word and his friends being unwilling to speak for him.

WILL GO TO HIGH COURT.

North Carolina Statute Prohibiting Soliciting Whiskey Orders.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Asheville, April 28.—An important case in which a man, Charles H. Martin, representative of the Martin Distilling Company, of Roanoke, Va., is charged with soliciting orders for whiskey in North Carolina contrary to the law, was taken up today in Superior court and may be fought through United States Supreme court with a view of testing the validity of that section of the law which some attorneys claim is in violation of the Federal constitution.

The facts agreed upon are that Martin came here and solicited orders and accepted one from D. R. McKinnon, selling him 63 gallons of whiskey, and forwarded the order to Roanoke and the whiskey was shipped. Judge Justice had directed a verdict of guilty, but has not yet sentenced him. Martin was indicted on evidence furnished by McKinnon, the latter bringing the indictment because Martin's house had taken nim (McKinnon) in arrest and all some time ago because the check McKinnon gave for the whiskey was returned unpaid.

NEAR-BEER DEALER GUILTY.

Monroe Recorder Imposes Fine of $25 on G. S. Fort.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Monroe, April 28.—The trial of G. S. Fort, the near-beer dealer who was arrested last Saturday night charged with permitting a minor to enter his saloon, was held in the Recorder's court yesterday, having been postponed from Monday so that a jury of six could be summoned. A great deal of interest has been taken in this trial and it was held in the Superior court room to accommodate the crowd that came to witness it.

The trial occupied the whole day, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty at 5 o'clock. Recorder Stevens imposed a fine of $25 on the defendant who took an appeal to the Superior court and furnished a bond of $100. There are other cases against the defendant, and one of these is for selling to a minor. He will be tried in the Recorder's court next Monday on a similar cnarge to that for which he was tried yesterday. It is not likely that Mr. Fort will continue in business here after May 31, when his license will expire.

AFFAIRS AT A. & M.

April Dance Given—Biological Club Meeting—Rousing Reception.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—The April dance of the Thalarian German Club was held in Pullen Hall last Saturday night. The dance was largely attended, a number of college men here for the game between Wake Forest and Trinity being present. The dance was very gracefully led by St. J. L. Springs, the club leader.

The annual Spring meeting of the Biological Club was held at the residence of Dr. F. L. Stevens of the Agricultural Department, Tuesday evening, April 26th. The club was addressed by Dr. W. S. Rankin, of the State Board of Health, who spoke on "Health".

Plans are on foot for a rousing reception to the baseball team when it returns from its Northern trip Sunday. The students decided to put off their celebration of the team's great victory over Georgetown, the game Wednesday having been won Thursday by the one-sided score of 11 to 2, until the big celebration Monday.

The deeds to rights of way, to depot site, and to "Y" at Elizabethtown have been procured and several big real estate transfers in behalf of the V. & C. S. Ry. interests have been filed this week. About the proposed Mills road a new location map has been filed at the register of deeds office. The route is laid down to a point near Dublin and no further. This route leads from Clarkton and passes Elizabethtown two miles to the west of the same. No actual work is being done yet, however.

MT. OLIVE BERRIES.

Shipments Nearly Double Those of Same Period Last Year.

(Mount Olive Tribune.)

The strawberry season is on in good fashion here now. From ten to fifteen solid refrigerator cars are going forward from this point daily and from now the volume will increase.

From all indications Mount Olive is going to have an unusually large crop—perhaps 75,000 or 80,000 crates, against about 55,000 crates last year.

Up to last night (Wednesday) 26,000 crates had been shipped from here.

Prices so far have been very satisfactory, ranging from $2.25 to $2.60 all this week.

If the balance of the crop can be marketed at anything around fair prices, Mount Olive will have experienced one of the best strawberry seasons in its history.

REPUBLICANS ALARMED.

Advices from Washington indicate that the election of two Democratic Congressmen in Republican strongholds in Massachusetts and New York have created a panicky feeling in Republican campaign circles at the National Capital. The G. O. P. Congressional campaign committee has taken alarm and is making desperate efforts to make the Republican party appear as injured innocence. The "wise guys" see the handwriting on the wall and they have gone to work in one more effort to fool the people. From the seat of alarm this comes in a special to the Greensboro Daily News (Republican), under date of Washington, April 26th:

"From now on the campaign of misrepresentation inaugurated by the Democratic party is going to be met with a campaign of refutation by the Republican party, and for the next six months the people on the one hand will be asked to believe the unquestionable statements of the Democratic party or to investigate the facts and figures as presented by the Republican party. We have had such campaigns before, and although misrepresentation has sometimes resulted in success, yet for the most part the truth has brought and should bring victory.

"The Republican Congressional committee has been fully awake to the situation for some time, and has been quietly doing all that it possibly could to offset the wave of misrepresentation which has been passing over the country largely through the disgruntled and muckraking magazines and some daily papers which are still sore over the fact that the tariff was not made on their special account. But hereafter Republican speeches in Congress and speeches made by noted Republicans throughout the country and the regular Republican papers will tell the people the facts about the tariff law; about the pending legislation; about the work of the administration and about the record of the Republican party in general and in particular and leave the people to decide whether they wish to keep in power a party that does things or a party that simply promises without even the ability or the opportunity to carry out its pledges."

The fright of the Republican campaign committee is pitiful to behold. In order to offset the wave of disapproval of the violation of the campaign pledges of the Republican party two years ago, they propose to send out millions of copies of speeches recently made for campaign effect by Republicans of National reputation. However, it appears that the people have cut their eye teeth and have been seeing things with their own eyes. It remains to be seen whether the sophistical speeches of the guilty defendants will again deceive the voters of the United States after a plain exhibition of Republican treachery to the people in the enactment of tariff legislation that has so terribly affected the interests of consumers throughout the United States. The false balance weighed out to the people in legislation for special interests has been of such a flagrant character that indignation has been aroused in every State of the Union. The Democratic press, the independent press, a large portion of the Republican press and many magazines have voiced that indignation and it will be difficult for burdened consumers to be made to believe that the exposure of the Republican party is muckraking. We shall see whether the people are as big fools as the Republican campaign committee takes them to be.

The Northern dentist who recently had about a peck of false teeth stolen from his office is still at a loss to imagine who got those teeth. Has he never suspected some politician who may have laid in a supply of teeth so he can better eat his own words after the campaign this Fall is at an end?

WILMINGTON'S POPULATION.

The 1900 census gave Wilmington a population of 20,976 and Charlotte 18,091. What will the census now being taken show up for Wilmington in the way of gain in the number of its inhabitants? The estimate among the boosters and the city directory men run from 35,000 to 40,000. We soon shall see how well they guess. However, it is important that the enumerators give Wilmington all the population that is coming to her. In other words, it is not necessary to throw out a further hint that the enumerators should do their work carefully and thoroughly, for it will take every name and individual to make a showing in comparison with one or two interior cities that have annexed two or three townships and thickly settled farms since the last census. Some of these bailiwicks have their eye on Wilmington, and while the Cape Fear City led all North Carolina cities in population in 1900, it would tickle some of them if this year's census will show that they have kidnapped enough farmers to make their population greater than that within the really motropolitan precincts of Wilmington. It is to be hoped that every inhabitant will be counted in order to make a showing against the rural population of some towns that are ambitious to be regarded as populous centres.

Charlotte is one of the cities that are counting high on this census and recently some boisterous booster up that way has been claiming that Charlotte has a population of 50,000, Col. Wade Harris, although trembling in his boots over some of the estimates which he has been making of the Queen City's population, still sticks to it that the census will give her credit for 45,000 people. No doubt every effort will be made to make Charlotte crow ever Greensboro in the matter of size, and, little short of padding the list, "stuffing the ballot box" and "holding back the returns," all sorts of counts will be made, strong probability being that it will be a hard matter to keep a lot of stuck-up Charlotte people from standing up to be counted twice. At any rate Charlotte is dead bent on having an accurate and full count up to the closing day, which is today. For instance, read this from the Charlotte Chronicle of Thursday:

"Determined to take the bull by the horns, and exhaust every resource to secure a full and complete census of this city, Mr. Judd Albright, in charge of Charlotte and Mecklenburg, has begun to make a personal canvass over the business district, and to put in operation other means whereby it will be possible to procure names that may have been overlooked by the enumerators.

"Mr. Albright is today perfecting the following plans to get at everybody who hasn't yet been "enumerated.'

"First, Mr. Albright is making arrangements with the owners or occupants of stores in the larger buildings, so that any person who may have rooms or who sleep in said buildings, particularly the proprietor of any store or other business on the ground floor of the said building. These names, left as directed, will be looked after by the census people.

"Second, it has been arranged so that any person, not seen by an enumerator, can by dropping a card or letter to Mr. Albright, at his office in the government building, have his name placed to the credit of 'Charlotte's teeming thousands.'

"Third, 'Let them call me up by telephone—No. 1862 L., and I will see that everything is made right,' declared Mr. Albright.

"Or any individual not on the census lists, may call in person at Mr. Albright's office and have himself enumerated as one of Uncle Sam's citizens.

"If there is any other method which can be resorted to in order to reach those omitted by the enumerators, Mr. Albright would like to know what it is.

"This is an important work and the co-operation of every citizen is due the census people in their big task of getting the names of every inhabitant of Charlotte, white and colored."

Just take notice of that sentence "If there is any other method which can be resorted to." It is too late now to "watch Charlotte" and it also is too late to urge the enumerators in Wilmington to count everything in sight. However, it is supposed that the enumerators have done their duty and we will soon know how many Wilmingtonians Uncle Sam can boast of counting among his inhabitants.

Don't fail to make a mental reservation of the significance of the above extract from the esteemed Evening Chronicle. Charlotte people are so proud of their town that they are zealous even in their desires and efforts to have their city population enumerated in a manner that will do the city full justice. That spirit is worthy of emulation by the people of any town. People ought to believe in their town and evidently the people of Charlotte do. Certainly the Chronicle editor is the leader of the Charlotte believers

The Parisians seem to have been alarmed over rumors that "American anarchists" had followed Colonel Roosevelt to Paris in order to assassinate him. If the Rough Rider Colonel still carries his gun he might welcome the chance to show the Parisians how he could hit a target in the shape of an anarchist. The lion killer might like to add an assassin to the list of specimens which he is bringing home from his hunting trip in the wilds of Africa.

DISASTROUS APRIL WEATHER.

The disastrous weather throughout the South within the last ten days, which wrought great destruction to young cotton plants and other tender vegetation, is now looked at from two standpoints. Frost, ice and snow throughout a large territory in the cotton growing States has undoubtedly wrought great damage and many Southern newspapers contain alarming articles on the situation. On the contrary, there are newspapers both in the South and at the North which discount the destruction which the April weather has caused. The probability is that the damage has not been underestimated as to the injury done to the cotton crop but owing to the fact that the season was not so far advanced that cotton cannot be replanted, the damage to a great extent can be repaired. Nevertheless, the loss to the farmers has been of a most serious nature, although the cotton crop may yet be large enough to fairly meet the demand.

While the advices throughout the cotton belt, as received in New York, are conflicting as to the actual damage done by the wintry visitation to the cotton fields, there is one phase of the situation that has to be taken seriously. That is, while it is possible to replant large areas of frost-killed cotton, it is doubted whether there is sufficient seed to be secured in time to bring the replanted acreage up to that which had been planted. The result in this case will be that the acreage will be cut down, even if the crop yet to be replanted should turn out well. The chances are against the late crop, especially in the boll-weevil regions in Texas and Louisiana. It really may turn out that the damage has been over-estimated, as a great many cotton men in New York claim. For instance Alfred B Shepperson, of New York, in a letter to the Manufacturers' Record concerning "the cotton situation," says:

"Very trifling damage was done to the crop in the Carolinas, Central and Northern Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee and Oklahoma, because the crop in these sections was not sufficiently advanced. The chief injury was in those sections of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana in which the plants had actually come up from the ground. Considerable replanting will be necessary, but the soil is generally in most excellent condition to receive the seed. It is probable that an area equal to ten to fifteen per cent of the acreage may have to be replanted."

Mr. Shepperson even discounts the statements that there will be a shortage of seed in the event that replanting has to be done on an extensive scale. He says the Southern farmers are generally intelligent men who always keep on hand sufficient seed from their previous crop for such replanting as might be necessary, but that there might be a few exceptions to this rule. It must be remembered however, that during the past season there has been such a demand for cotton seed that the cotton oil mills have been paying from 40 to 50 cents a bushel for seed. At prices like that most farmers no doubt sold every bushel they could spare.

Mr. Albert Phenis writing from New York, April 26th, to the Manufacturers' Record says it is estimated that 2,000,000 of acres of cotton would have to be replanted. The New York papers on Tuesday published statements to the effect that the cotton seed oil men who have the seed necessary for replanting will squeeze the planters by making excessive charges for the seed. One statement was to the effect that the oil mill men intended to exact the price of $150 a ton for cotton seed. Mr. Phenis says he is assured that no such intention exists among the cotton seed oil men, as he made an extensive canvass among the New York representatives of the cotton oil mills and they informed him that they would co-operate in every way with the farmers. Necessarily it is to their interest to do so, for they will need all the seed they can get next year to supply the demand of the mills, owing to the increased consumption of cotton oil and cotton seed products throughout the world.

In viewing the situation brought about by the extremely unfavorable weather in April, the Manufacturers' Record of April 28th, said:

"Unprecedented weather in portions of some of the cotton-growing States, added to the failure of a cotton-brokerage firm in Alabama with wide connections, affecting principally foreign interests, has created a situation compelling everybody concerned about cotton, from the planting of the seed to the marketing of the finished products, to give serious thought to the outcome as to cotton during the next 12 months.

"At the outset it should be noted that, statistically, the Southern cotton mills are in a better position than the mills of any other section in the world. They seem to have been less affected than any other group of mills, as far as buying cotton was involved, by the deliberate drive led by foreign manufacturers against the price of cotton instituted at the beginning of the commercial year, now two-thirds past. They were in a position to know that a short crop justified an advance in price, and they had the good sense to act upon such knowledge and to buy cotton when they could instead of attempting to beat down the price artificially. Consequently, the Southern cotton mills have taken already more cotton than the mills in the rest of the country. This has happened two or three times before, but it is believed never before so early in the season. According to the figures of Col. Henry G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, Southern mills had taken up to April 22nd nearly 15,000 bales of cotton more than the mills in the rest of the country had taken. The takings by Southern spinners up to that date were only 52,059 less than thier takings in the same period last season, while the 1,800,413 bales taken by spinners in the rest of the country were 546,995 bales less than their takings in the same period last season, and the 5,180,543 bales taken by foreign spinners, not including 52,292 bales returned to this country within the past few weeks, were 2,144,224 bales less in the first eight months of the season foreign spinners have taken 3,268,906 bales less than they took in the whole of last season, the spinners in the United States outside of the South 879,587 bales less, and Southern spinners 744,000 less. About 1,000,000 bales of the 1909 crop are yet to come upon the market. The call of the world's mills during the next 12 months will, under normal conditions would be for at least 18,000,000 bales if their spindles are to be kept active. The world's requirements are now on a scale that makes a crop of 14,000,000 bales in the South almost a necessity if great distress is to be averted in textile centers already caught short of supplies as a result of the campaign based upon the fallacy that a smaller crop could be bought at the same price as a large crop, if not at a less price."

In the House of Representatives at Washington on Tuesday a joint resolution was introduced, providing for the appointment of a joint committee to consider the advisability of holding an "Exposition of all the Americas in Washington in 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama Canal." The Washington Post says the purpose of the resolution is to get the drift of National sentiment towards the proposition. There should be no division of sentiment on that question. The capital of the great nation which is completing that stupendous work is the proper place to celebrate its completion.

The entire country will learn with sorrow of the painful if not serious injury of General Nelson Miles in Washington on Wednesday afternoon. He was thrown from a spirited horse and was picked up unconscious, having sustained a severe nervous shock, had a rib on the left side broken and sustained a scalp wound on the left side of his head. The war veteran is 71 years of age but the gratifying statement is made that he will recover.

News comes from Washington that Congressman Nick Longworth, son-in-law of ex-President Roosevelt, is being groomed by the Republicans as the candidate of that party for Governor, in opposition to the candidacy of Governor Harmon who will be renominated by the Democrats of Ohio. If the husband of Miss Alice should win, he might get Presidential aspirations mixed up with his family affairs.

President Taft abandoned his campaign pledges and endorsed Aldrich and Cannon. The recent election of two Democratic Congressmen in Republican strongholds in the North show that the people do not endorse the President's endorsement.

To be an insurgent and to be an Administration Congressman at one and the same time must be a hard job for those Western Senators and Representatives who insurged against what President Taft is standing for.

The late B. F. Aycock, of Wayne county, possessed ability far beyond his opportunities. He loved North Carolina and the State was a gainer from the services which he rendered to her during his life time.

A contemporary announces that "illusion will be popular at the seaside." Delusion may be unpopular but it will be practiced wherever you find illusion.

The Columbus (Georgia) Inquirer-Sun notes a reduction in the price of skunk skins. It might be a good idea for a few scents to be knocked off.

CURRENT COMMENT.

South Carolinians are trekking to Georgia it is said. Can't stand the steady approach of civilization from North Carolina and Virginia, eh?—Norfolk Landmark.

Mr. Taft may not be all that a President ought to be, but he certainly showed himself to be a thorough gentleman when some of the suffragettes fell so far short of behaving like ladies.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

"Did it ever occur to you that a boy is the only thing in the world that you can make a man out of?" asks the Marshville Home. We have seen some men whose manner of conducting themselves indicated that they were made out of donkeys.—Charlotte Observer.

By the way, it is said to be a fact that Mr. Roosevelt wrote all his European speeches and all his New York editorials before he left this country for Africa, and that he did much of it in the closing weeks of his strenuous life in the White House. If this be true, energy never had a more remarkable illustration.—Norfolk Landmark.

On no proposition are Democrats and Republicans farther apart than in the matter of appointment of postmasters. Some of the latter advocate putting these officials under the civil service so as to give them life tenure of office, while many of the former advocate their election by the people for stated terms, making possible change at the end of each term. The civil service idea is evidently suggested at this time because of fear of possibility of the next President being a Democrat.—Charlotte Observer.

One or two of the leading European journals are blasphemously hinting that the Roosevelt pageants have no more behind them than the curiosity of the multitude to see a notorious character cut from a pattern entirely foreign to their conception and experience of rulers and dignitaries. One London paper goes so far as to say that the flocking of thousands are inspired by no higher motive than that which led them in days gone by to almost mob Phineas Barnum or later to allow Buffalo Bill neither privacy nor rest from obtrusive attentions. It is even hinted that in the higher circles of royalty and diplomacy there is wonder that the ex-President should take himself and the demonstrations he excites so seriously, and that among themselves these functionaries ridicule the half-baked knowledge which seems to them little removed from ignorance of world politics and statecraft.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Wilmington authorities are not only making mighty efforts to break up the illegal sale of liquor there, but are reaching out beyond the corporate limits and taking in the near-beer saloons which are openly doing business. The city attorney holds that dealers in near-beer located within a mile of the city limits are liable for the municipal license tax of one hundred dollars a year. Two persons have been arrested for running such saloons. It seems these men were not aware they were violating the law, nor did the officials know they were liable for the tax until the city attorney had declared that they were. We know nothing about the conditions, but judge that if there are to be near-beer saloons it would be better for the peace and good order of the community that they be situated well within the city than out on the suburbs, where in most towns, especially seaports, there is none too much order preserved even where there are no near-beer or any other kind of saloons. There is a good deal of truth in the saying that the Lord made the country, man made the towns and the devil made the suburbs. The mile limit rule is a good one for the protection of people living near a city's boundary line, whether applied to policing powers or to conducting places for sale of intoxicants or even the supposedly non-intoxicating near-beer.—Charlotte Observer.

North Carolina spent $1,052,890 on roads in 1909, of which $649,190 were for new roads and $403,700 for maintenance, the greater part of the latter sum for repair of dirt roads. The aggregate expenditure does not include the work in 19 of the 98 counties of the State, where practically all the repairs were made under the old system of tax paid by labor. Of the 403 miles of improved roads constructed, 163 miles were of sand clay, costing $90,000; 131 1-2 miles of macadam, costing $502,490, and 108 1-2 miles of gravel, costing $56,700. The average cost per mile was $3,821 for macadam, $552 for sand clay and $513 for gravel. The comparatively low average per mile for both macadam and gravel is explained in the bulletin of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association by the fact that some of the roads had been already partly graded or needed no large amount of grading before surfacing. That is a fairly good showing on the part of a State which was a pioneer in improved road construction in the South, but it is but an index to the healthy spirit prevailing in that State and most recently manifested in the enthusiastic determination to provide a first-class highway across the State connecting Charlotte with Knoxville by way of Asheville and bring part of a system in the Appalachian Highlands, linking Charlotte, Spartanburg, Atlanta, Knoxville, Hendersonville, Asheville, Greenville and other cities, and opening up to tourists a section of the country hardly yet appreciated as it should be by health-seekers and those on pleasure bent.—Manufacturers' Record.

Mothers find Perry Davis' Painkiller invaluable in the nursery, and it should be kept at hand in case of accident. For pain in the breast take a little Painkiller in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breast in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged, from cold, or other causes, bathing in the Painkiller will give immediate relief. Ask for New 25c. Bottle.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTINGS

Tidewater Power Co. to Run First Complimentary Excursion to Beach Monday, When Wrightsboro School Will be Guests.

In accordance with its very commendable annual custom the Tidewater Power Company has arranged to give every Sunday School in the city an outing at Wrightsville Beach during the month of May. Not only will the company have as its guests this year members of the city Sunday Schools, but several schools in the county as well. The courtesy of the company in this respect is greatly appreciated by the officers and scholars of the Sunday Schools and these outings are always enjoyable affairs.

The first complimentary excursion of the season will be given Monday, when the company will have as its guests for the day the teachers and scholars of the Wrightsboro Sunday School, some miles from the city. They will arrive in the city early Monday morning in private conveyances and will board cars in waiting at Front and Princess streets. There are 50 members of the school and it is expected that most of them will take advantage of the offer of the Tidewater company. As formerly the excursions will be in charge of Capt. W. F. Corbett, the genial and popular representative of the company, who has arranged every detail for the outings. Captain Corbett announces that all excursions will start from Front and Princess streets and that it will be necessary for the children to be there promptly. The schedules to be maintained will not permit stops to be made at the street intersections to pick up passengers.

In addition to Wrightsboro Sunday School the following other Sunday Schools will have their outings at the beach this week. Tuesday, Brooklyn Baptist Church, W. L. Moore, superintendent, 250 children, and Southside Baptist Church, R. B. Moore, superintendent, 150 children. These will leave the junction at 10 A. M. Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock, St. John's Episcopal Church, Prof. Washington Catlett, principal, 100 children; Wednesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, St. James' Episcopal Church, S. M. Boatwright, superintendent, 100 children; Thursday morning, 10 o'clock, Castle Hayne Road, Mrs. Lineker, superintendent, 150 children, and the Salvation Army, Ensign Williams, superintendent, 150 children; Friday morning, 10 o'clock, Chapel of Good Shepherd, J. H. Boatwright, superintendent, 200 children.

TRIP THROUGH CANALS.

Messrs. MacGowan and Morse Will Accompany Mr. John Garrell.

On the long and interesting trip planned by Mr. John Garrell, with his new yacht through the canals and bays from Rochester, N. Y., to Wilmington, he will be accompanied by Mr. W. A. MacGowan and Mr. Thomas M. Morse, of this city.

The canals are open the 15th of May and shortly after that time Mr. Garrell and party will start on the long trip. Messrs. MacGowan and Morse expect to leave here between the 10th and 15th of May. Mr. Garrell, as will be recalled, recently purchased a handsome new yacht and is now in Rochester seeing that she is fitted up properly before bringing her to her home port. Mr. Morse is well acquantinted with the trip through the canals and will pilot the yacht.

The first lap of the voyage will be down the Erie Canal to the Hudson river, and down the Hudson to New York. Leaving New York their course will be down the Raritan canal to the Delaware to Trenton and on into the Chesapeake canal to the Chesapeake Bay. Leaving the Chesapeake they will enter the Dismal Swamp canal at Norfolk and pursue this route to the North Carolina sounds. Mr. Garrell will probably spend the Summer at Beaufort with his launch.

LUDDEN & BATES.

Southern Music House Being Enlarged and Business Extended.

The store of the Ludden & Bates Southern Music House No. 219 North Front street, is being remodelled. The store has been enlarged and a partition wall put up, dividing the Ludden & Bates Music House from the store of the Hunt Furniture Co. The workmen are busy wall papering and painting the entire store. When finished it will have an artistic appearance indeed. Manager J. B. Wilson states that as soon as completed, he will put in a line of Grand Pianos, Self Playing Pianos, and a line of upright pianos and parlor organs of the highest grade possible. Manager Wilson states that it is his intention to have a music store that for neatness and beauty of appearance will have no superior in the Southern States, and that it will be the policy of the company to select the highest grade and most artistic instruments that it is possible for money to buy. It is evidently the intention of this old reliable company to give to the people of Wilmington a music house of which they may justly feel proud. This music house enjoys the rare distinction of being engaged in the sale of pianos and organs for a period of forty years.

Tidewater Spring Schedule.

MORE ABOUT "NEAR BEER"

Colored Draymen Tell of Making Deliveries of Barrels to Near-Beer Dealers—Hearing in Mayor's Office Yesterday.

In the Mayor's office at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was a further inquiry into the alleged wholesale consignments of whiskeys received by Wilmington near-beer dealers. The hearing was similar to those held Saturday and Tuesday and the examination was by J. O. Carr, Esq., attorney for the citizens' committee. In response to subpoenas issued by the Mayor several colored draymen appeared, to testify to what they knew of the shipments and sale of whiskey in Wilmington.

Only two of the draymen examined gave testimony of any consequence, the others testifying that they had not hauled any barrels from either of the depots since Christmas. From investigations made it seems that the beer is received largely by Clyde Line and the whiskey principally over the Seaboard Air Line.

Nelson Nixon, colored, a public drayman, was the first examined. Nixon said that most of his work was the moving of furniture and that he never hauled merchandise from either the Seaboard, Coast Line or Clyde Line. He went to the Seaboard depot two months ago to get some lumber for the Wynnewood Lumber Company, but with the exception of one barrel of cider he had never hauled any barrels from the Seaboard or Coast Line depots. Nixon said that he was a churchman and did not bother with whiskey in any way, but stated that he sees evidences of it on every hand.

Louis Hawkins, a colored drayman, testified that his work was mostly moving household goods and only occasionally hauled anything else. At this juncture the proceedings were interrupted for a few minutes by the cries of a drunken negro woman being brought in by Captain Bob Green and the patrol wagon. She was arrested at Fifth and Market and was so drunk that she could not stand alone. The officers had much trouble in getting her out of the wagon. Her head was bloody, caused by striking it against the sides of the wagon. When Captain Green disappeared in the basement of the hall with his charge those in the Mayor's office left the window, from which they witnessed a practical demonstration of the fact that whiskey is being sold here, and the inquiry was resumed. The witness said in response to further questions that he hauled some barrels from the Seaboard last year, six being delivered to John Kuhlken, but he did not know what the barrels contained. He had not been to the Seaboard, Coast Line or Clyde Line depots since Christmas and did not know where whiskey could be purchased.

Emmanuel Hill, a colored drayman, goes to the wharf some times, but his work is principally for S. L. Smith & Son, tinners. He had never hauled any barrels from either of the depots.

The next to be called was Enoch Alexander, a colored drayman, who hauls much merchandise from the wharf, but had not been to the Seaboard depot since Christmas. He goes to the Coast Line depot and Clyde Line docks frequently. He had hauled one barrel from the Clyde Line to a cafe on Dock, between Water and Front streets, since Christmas. There was no mark on the barrel, he said, to indicate what it contained, but was told that it was "nigh-beer". Before Christmas he hauled four barrels from the Clyde Line to a place on Fourth, just above Church, but did not know for whom. Asked if anybody had ever had any whiskey shipped here in his name, Alexander told of receiving through the mails an advertisement and of the "hail Columbia" his wife gave him, she having got hold of it first. Being questioned further he said that he received some whiskey once for "family use."

Robert Johnson, a white man, a plasterer by trade, who lives at 503 South Sixth street, was next called. He said that he had been arrested on the charge of selling whiskey, submitted and paid his fine and costs and endeavored to convey the impression that he and whiskey had parted company forever. He could not say whether or not anybody had ordered whiskey in his name, but was certain that he had never given anyone permission to use his name in ordering whiskey. He said that he had seen many barrels shipped here recently, but could not say what they contained. They looked like sugar barrels, however. Most of the barrels he had seen were in the northern part of the city.

William Galloway, colored, who does a general drayage business, was the first to give any testimony of consequence. He said that he knew John Taylor, who keeps a near-beer saloon at Eighth and Castle streets, and that he had hauled much freight for him from the Seaboard Air Line, including a large number of barrels, but did not know what they contained. The barrels, 10 in number, according to his best recollection, were consigned to him, but he did not see anything on the barrels to indicate what they contained. He had also hauled some barrels from the Coast Line and Clyde Line and delivered them to Mr. Taylor. From the Clyde Line he had hauled three barrels to M. H. Croom's place and three to J. N. Bennett's place They were marked beer. In reply to further questions the negro said that he gave John Taylor permission to use his name in ordering goods provided he would use it carefully, which he agreed to do.

Elijah Smith, colored, also a public drayman employed by no particular person, whose business is largely on the wharf, was the last and one of the most important persons examined. He said that he had hauled many barrels from the depots, but did not know if they contained whiskey. He denied that he was given a sticker to paste over the mark on one of the barrels that he had hauled from the Seaboard. On Thursday he hauled 15 barrels from the Clyde Line to M. L. Starkey's place. The barrels were said to contain "nigh-beer", he testified. On Tuesday he hauled two barrels from the Clyde Line to J. T. Newman's place. Smith said that he had been hauling barrels for 20 years and had hauled many from the Seaboard since Christmas. He had hauled many barrels from the Seaboard to J. T. Newman's place, but could not give an estimate of the number. He had hauled some for M. L. Starkey since Christmas and some for John C. Boesch and W. C. Boesch before Christmas. He said that he hauled several barrels for Mr. Ormsby some time ago. From the Clyde Line he hauled two barrels for Mr. Dulin, on 11th, between Princess and Chesnut streets.

When he concluded Mr. Carr announced that the investigation would end for the time being.

BASEBALL GAME TODAY.

Donaldson Military School and Local High School to Contest.

The Donaldson Military School baseball team is expected to arrive in the city about noon today for a contest at League Park this afternoon with the crack Wilmington High School team. Local fans have manifested much interest in the game and it is quite safe to say that many will witness the contest. Both teams are in splendid condition. Davis, most probably the best prep-school pitcher in the State, will be in the box for the locals. As this is the first half holiday of the season for the employes of the general offices of the Coast Line, it is expected that many of the employees will take advantage of this opportunity to see a game of baseball. The Tidewater Power Company will furnish ample car service. The half-hour schedule on the suburban line goes into effect this afternoon and in addition there will be other cars if the crowd justifies. The Donaldson team will arrive at 1 o'clock, via Seaboard, and will be the guests of the local boys. They will be in charge of Prof. J. M. McFall, principal of the school. The admission will be 25 cents and the game will be called at 4 o'clock.

BLADEN STREET REVIVAL.

Will Begin Sunday Morning—Rev. Dr. L. L. Nash to Assist.

A revival meeting will begin at Bladen Street Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. W. L. Rexford, will be assisted by Rev. Dr. L. L. Nash, of Greensboro, who is well knokn in Wilmington and throughout the State. Dr. Nash does not come to this city with a new theology, but with the Gospel truth just as it is, and the truth that has crowned the many years of his labor with such signal success. No one should miss the opportunity of hearing him and because of this a cordial invitation to attend the services is extended to all. Good singing has been arranged for and all plans for the meeting have been made. Dr. Nash will arrive on the evening train today and will preach the first sermon of the series at 11 o'clock tomorrow. At the close of the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered by Dr. Nash, and it is hoped that all the members of the congregation will be present. The congregation has been earnestly at work for the past few months and is now expecting a great revival of religion in the church and community.

HEARING AS TO BRIDGES.

United States Engineer Has Complaint as to Navassa and Hilton.

A complaint having been submitted by the Wilmington branch of the American Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots that the draws of the bridges at Navassa and Hilton are of insufficient width, Capt. Earl I. Brown, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, in charge of this district, will hold a public hearing to determine whether or not the draws should be widened from 60 to 80 feet. The hearing will be in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce, on North Front street, at 10 A. M. Wednesday, May 11th, when all parties interested will have an opportunity to present their views on the question. After the hearing, Captain Brown will submit his report and recommendations to the Secretary of War for final decision.

These bridges are owned by the Wilmington Railway Bridge Company, of this city, and are operated jointly by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the Seaboard Air Line Railway companies.

Bauman last night, consisted of 76 cars, the distribution being as follows: Pittsburg 15, Boston 12, Cleveland and Buffalo 4 each, Utica, Syracuse, Hartford, Albany, Springfield, Rochester 3 each, New York, Erie, Providence, Columbus, 2 each, and one each to New Bedford, Watertown, Toronto, Elmira, Worcester, Bradford, Olean, Norwich, Atlantic City, Harrisburg, Binghampton, Toledo, Bridgeport, North Adams and Detroit.

COMPLETED WELL CONTRACT.

Four Driven in Different Sections of City—Supply is Good.

Contractor T. W. Callihan has completed his contract with the city for four deep wells which have been driven in different parts of the city, the last of these having been at Third and Wright streets. Chairman Jos. H. Hinton, of the Waterworks Committee of the Board of Aldermen, yesterday received a report from the State Chemist at Raleigh, who pronounces the supply from the well at Third and Wright as unusually good for drinking purposes. The wells cost $113 each and will prove a great blessing to the sections of the city in which they are located.

The new accommodation fountain at Seventh and Nixon has already arrived and is being installed on the corner named

VICTIM OF CANNIBALS.

Two Presbyterian Church Missionaries Killed on Savage Islands.

Seattle, Wash., April 29.—Details of the eating by cannibals on February 5th, of Rev. Horatio Hopkins and his assistant, Rev. Hector Laurie McPherson, missionaries of the Presbyterian church on Savage Island, were brought by the barkentine Mary E. Winkelman, which arrived today at Mukilteo, Wash., from the Tonga islands in the South seas.

While the barkentine lay at Tangatabu in the Tonga Islands, a canoe load of mission natives from Savage Island arrived at Fua, bringing news of the butchery.

The natives said that Hopkins and McPherson were teaching in the mission building stands on the beach in the little harbor of Savage Island when 200 unconverted savages, howling war cries and brandishing clubs and spears, descended on them and took 13 prisoners. The missionaries had 20 converts in training at the time, and only nine of them escaped.

Both missionaries were bound with thongs and left lying on the beach in the tropical sun for several hours, while the savages took the native captives inland.

The cannibals then returned to the beach and carried the missionaries on a litter to the crater of the extinct volcano Vanlue, in the center of the island. There for two days and nights they held a corroboree. At times their dancing and reveling could be seen plainly by the fugitive Christian natives.

While most of the cannibals were sleeping the captive natives escaped. Their going was hastened by the sight of two of the cannibal chiefs donning the missionaries' clothes. The clergymen had already been eaten.

STATE OFFICIAL CONVICTED.

Architect Padded Bill for Desks for New York State Capital.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—Capitol Architect Joseph M. Huston, was today convicted of conspiracy in falsely certifying to a padded bill for desks for the State capitol, after a trial of almost four weeks, and by a jury which deliberated almost 26 hours.

The verdict was reached shortly after 5 o'clock this evening, when the 27th ballot was taken. The verdict was accompanied with this recommendation to mercy:

"The jury would recommend leniency on the part of the court in pronouncing sentence on account of his irreproachable reputation prior to this charge."

A motion for arrest of judgment of suspension of sentence so that reasons might be presented for a new trial was made at once and granted. Huston was not in court when the jury handed its verdict to the judge.

The trial is the third of a series resulting from the exposure of frauds in furnishing the new State capitol and Huston is the fifth of 17 men indicted on charges of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the State to be convicted. The others convicted were ex-Auditor General W. P. Snyder, ex-State Treasurer W. L. Mathues, ex-Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings J. M. Shumaker, and Furniture Contractor John H. Sanderson. Sanderson and Mathues are dead and the other two are serving a two years' sentence in the Eastern penitentiary. They were convicted in a case from which Husten was severed in January, 1908.

Huston is defendent in 34 other cases, charging conspiracy and false pretense and is also a respondent in the action in equity to recover $5,000,000 alleged to have been wrongfully paid for furnishing the capitol.

TROUBLE IN TURKEY.

Two Hundred of Pasha's Forces Either Killed or Wounded.

Constantinople, April 29.—The Turkish forces have not yet succeeded in dislodging the Aldians, who hold a strongly fortified position in the Kachanik Pass. Shefket Pasha, commanding the Turkish troops lost 200 men killed or wounded, in the battle of Tuesday, and then waiting for reenforcements he opened Pourparlers with a view to having the rebels surrender.

These failing, he again opened an attack Thursday night and the battle proceeded throughout the night and into this afternoon, the Albanians contesting every foot of ground. The losses on both sides were heavy.

The Turks seized during the fighting an important position at Orbanieh at the northern end of the pass, and it is hoped that the pass will be completely cleared by tomorrow. Meantime the absence of news from Prizrend or Pristina causes increased anxiety.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Wilmington Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

You can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains;

Urinary troubles set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Wilmington people tell you how they act.

William L. Benson, 618 S. Second St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store, did me more good than any other remedy I ever used. My back ached all the time and I could not stoop or lift without having sharp pains shoot through my body. Mornings my back was so lame and sore that it was hard for me to get out of bed. The kidney secretions were highly colored and contained a great deal of sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the pains in my back and regulated the passage of the kidney secretions. I have such confidence in this remedy that I advise its use to anyone suffering from kidney complaint.

DAVIDSON DOINGS.

President Smith Returns From Extended Trip—Carnegie Library.

Davidson, N. C., April 29.—President Smith returned home this morning from an extended trip in the South. After leaving South Carolina, where he spoke before several of the Presbyteries, he went to New Orleans, where on Sunday he spoke on Christian Education in Dr. Cornelson's church, the First Church, in the morning and at night in the Prytania Street church. His objective on this trip south was Dallas, to address the Educational Conference of Texas Business Men, a large and enthusiastic meeting held in that city. While in Texas Dr. Smith also visited Austin College at Sherman, and the State capital, Austin, speaking in this latter place before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of the University of Texas on Saturday night and on Sunday morning he made an address in the university church and in the evening speaking again in the First Presbyterian Church of Austin.

Dr. Smith leaves again the last of the week for Atlanta, where on Sunday he will speak in the interest of Davidson's endowment in Rev. Dr. Flinn's pulpit.

The accounts that Dr. Smith gives of the snow and ice and the destruction wrought by the storm to fruit and other forms of growing vegetation in the South and West despite the heroic efforts of the farmers and truckers to save their crops but confirms the startling accounts sent out by the Associated Press.

One of the more recent $1,000 subscriptions to the endowment fund is that of Mrs. Swan, of the Goldsboro church who contributes this amount to endow a ministerial scholarship in memory of her husband. This is one in what has now become a large list of generous gifts taking this particular form and made for this special purpose of endowing ministerial scholarships.

It is expected that in about another week or more the handsome Carnegie library will be turned over, a complete job, to Dr. W. J. Martin, proctor, and the committee in charge of its erection. The work of cleaning up the courts that surround the building has already begun, and by commencement the library with the plats of grass on either side and in front of it will constitute one of the handsomest parts of the campus.

MORE COTTON PLANTED

Staple In Southern States—Should Replant 14,000,000 Acres.

Memphis, Tenn., April 29—In a statement issued today by the National Ginners' Association it is estimated that the acreage planted to cotton in the Southern States on April 26th had been increased by seven-tenths of one per cent. as compared with the same date last year.

Reports to the association show that 64 per cent. of the crop has been planted. Most of the plants which were up before the recent cold weather were killed, except in Central and Southern Texas, and it is estimated that 14,000,000 acres should be re-planted. With average weather, a loss of ten per cent. in yield is predicted.

CHURCH SOCIETY WAS DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED.

The Baptist Young People's Union of the Southside Baptist Church was delightfully entertained last night by Miss Bevvie Fales, president of the society, at her home, No. 518 Castle street. There was a large attendance of the members and many visitors were present. A very pleasant musical programme was rendered by Misses Flossie Marshbanks and Mae Landen, following which there were two interesting contests. The first was a character sketch of 12 Bible heroes. Mr. Rowland Potter received the prize, a handsomely bound testament, in this contest. The second was a conversational contest so arranged that every young man could talk to a young lady. Then the vote was taken to determine the lady and gentlemen who could carry on the most interesting conversation, the lady's prize going to Miss Effie Dudley and the gentlemen's to Mr. Lamb Landen. Following the contests delightful refreshments were served by the hostess. All present declared the occasion a delightful one and voted Miss Fales a most charming hostess.

GAYNOR AND HEARST.

Statements From Both Following Mayor's Attack on Publisher.

New York, April 29.—Mayor Gaynor and Mr. William Randolph Hearst both issued statements today on the issue of veracity raised last night at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and the Newspaper Publishers' Association, when the Mayor said that Mr. Hearst was a farger and a falsifier. Supplementary statements issued by Comptroller Prendergast, former Comptroller Metz and the district attorney's office, following rumors that there was a possibility of future legal proceedings as a result of the mayor's address last night.

Mr. Hearst's statement follows: "I am not entirely familiar with all the accusations against Mayor Gaynor, or his attempt to divert attention from the issue by an attack on The American. I have just returned from Mexico.

"It is obvious to any one, however, that the mayor's defense is false upon its face.

"His attack upon the American is entirely disingenious and wholly untruthful.

"His only claim when it is analyzed, is that the American failed to print clearly the date on a photographic fac simile of one of the documents in the case against him, although the American carried the same date on the same document clearly printed in type in the text of the article.

"What a petty quibble for an important man, or further what a quibble for a petty man who holds an important position.

"Finally anybody who can read and think can see clearly that the date in question is not the important data anyhow, but that the important data is the date of January 4th, a date in Mayor Gaynor's administration upon which the payment to Cohalan of $48,000 was finally signed and actually authorized. The January signature was affixed in the office of Chamberlain Hyde, Mr. Gaynor's law partner.

"This latter gentleman, who is popularly known as 'Gaynor's thick hyde' is not only Gaynor's law partner, but the person who figures conspicuously in Gaynor's golf ball decision in favor of race track gambling.

"Say your law partner paid the warrant, if you please, Mr. Gaynor, say your law partner's assistant paid it, if you please; but at least explain why a warrant which the former administration held up as exorbitant was paid by your administration without question and without investigation. Answer, Mayor Gaynor as a matter of duty, as a matter of decency and as a matter of public policy.

"Was not Cohalan the intermediary between you and Charley Murphy, and was he not largely instrumental in getting you the Tammany nomination?

"Was not Cohalan concerned in the attempt to steal for you the nomination of the Independence League, which piece of political porch climbing Justice Gerard, an honest judge, effectually stopped?

"Did not Comptroller Prendergast after you had been seated as mayor, call your attention to the warrant for Cohalan's $48,000 which was in your office?

"Did not Comptroller Prendergast explain to you what it was and tell you that if you would send the warrant back to him he would make a complete report on it and go to the bottom of the matter?

"Did you not thank Comptroller Prendergast and say that it was true that 'these lawyers in such cases were getting too much from the city.'

"Did you not then fail to send the warrant back to the comptroller and fail to ask for the report, but did you not on the contrary allow this padded fee to go through unquestioned in January 4th, 1910?

"Stop talking about the date that did not print and say a few words about the date that did print.

"To your blatherskite abuse I am indifferent, for in all such matters I consider the source and the natural irritation that a public official feels in being exposed.

"Now I know perfectly well what is going to happen to you, Mr. Gaynor.

"The people are going eventually to find you out and repudiate you and tan both you and your 'thick Hyde.'

"And even those newspapers that are now truckling and lick splitting to you in the hope of securing the city advertising will in the end sacrifice those lucrative contracts for the priceless privilege of telling the truth about you."

For the mayor, Robert Adamson, his private secretary, gave out the following statement:

The mayor is not required to sign warrants at all. They are made out and signed by the comptroller, and then by the chief clerk of the mayor's office, under authority of the charter. Over 275,000 such drafts are signed in a year, some days over 1,000. The mayor has never signed one—the (Cohalan) claim was for legal services in the Francisco tax suits. Several lawyers were paid, including Judge (Alton B.) Parker. The claim was audited and filed last December after much evidence was taken and thereby became a legal claim against the city. Mayor Gaynor never had anything to do with it."

Clarence J. Shern, counsel for the Hearst interest, called at the comptroller's office today and his visit raised the instant supposition that legal action might result from Mayor Gaynor's address. The district attorney said tonight, however, that no steps looking toward such action had yet been taken through his office.

Mexican MUSTANG LINIMENT

An unfailing remedy for the ills of your Live-stock and especially valuable in cases of Caked Udder and Sore Teats in Cows.

Saves Loss in the Dairy.

LYON MANUFACTURING CO.,
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—It seems to me among your claims as to the efficacy of Mexican Mustang Liniment you hardly give prominence enough to its wonderful curative power on inflamed and caked udder in cows. I have used it for two years in my stable and since I began its use have not had a case which was not relieved by a few applications. A thorough bathing of the udder with hot water followed by gentle and persistent rubbing in of the "Mustang" will, I believe, cure any case, leaving the teats in good order—unless suppuration has already begun. If all others in the dairy business knew this it would save much worry and loss. Respectfully,

Mrs. A. I. YOUNG,

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

It Is an Internal Disease and Requires an Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with oils and liniments will not cure, affords only temporary relief at best, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the fibre of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called "Rheumacide." Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide "gets at the joints from the inside," sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the system, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you feel well all over. Rheumacide "strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause." This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c and 50c a package. THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, April 29.—Although notices representing at least 200,000 bales according to estimates made late in the day were issued against May contracts in the cotton market, no particular excitement prevailed on the cotton exchange nor did any weakness develop. On the contrary, the failure of the circulation of such a large volume of notices to dislodge any weak long interest caused considerable covering with the market closing steady at a net advance of 2 to 6 points near months being relatively high. The market opened steady at an advance of 14 to 16 points on the old crop and of 3 to 6 on the new in response to better cables than expected and covering. It looked as though some speculative shorts in May had been waiting for notices to be issued on the idea they might drive out a weak long interest, but when they found nothing offering at the opening, they turned to cover. May sold up from 14.60 to 14.80 inside of the first ten minutes. Then some long cotton began to come out, probably as a result of the circulation of notices through the street and prices dropped a few points from the best, but no real weakness developed and the market reached the best prices of the day in the late trading when May sold at 14.85 or 25 points above the closing prices of last night and the new crop sold about 10 points net higher. The close was a shade off from the best under realizing at 14.76 for May and 12.67 for October. There are many who believe that the taking up of cotton by the bull leaders today is by no means the end of the bull campaign. It is estimated that the bulls hold contracts for the delivery of at least 100,000 bales of cotton more during May, and that they are also heavily long of July and August. The trade is now awaiting with the liveliest interest the success of bulls in disposing of the cotton taken on up in May which is valued at about $15,000,000. It is said that 40,000 bales are to be shipped to Southern mills and several thousand bales are to be shipped to Fall River. Weather reports were considered generally favorable aside from predicted lower temperatures in the southwest. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8c higher.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

New York, April 29.—It has been a week of sensations and sharp fluctuation in cotton prices. The first flurry was caused by a frost scare in half a dozen States at the South and reports that much replanting would be necessary and difficult to accomplish because of the scarcity and high price of seed. This led to a sharp advance. Then came a reaction owing to warmer weather and reports that the damage has been exaggerated. Also there was a fear in the minds of many that the May notices on Friday the 29th, instant, might have a damaging effect on the market. Spot markets, too, were dull, Friday's sales at Liverpool were very small, the Bombay receipts for the week were big and of late the certificated stock here has increased rapidly. The deliveries on May contracts are expected to be very large up to the last of May. The anti-option bill and the grand jury proceedings hang over the market and a recent slump in securities has not tended to help matters. Many call it a clique market and avoid it, fearing to buy lest they should receive holdings of big bulls or to go short lest they should resqueezed. This has caused a sharp falling off in transactions. It has been largely an affair between big men. The upshot is some advance for the week, especially on the Fall months. On Friday nearly 200,000 bales were tendered on May contracts but they were stopped in a twinkling by the brokers supposed to represent James A. Patten, Frank B. Hayne, William P. Brown, and Eugene Scales. It is also said that the cotton will be shipped out to domestic and foreign mills of which some 40,000 will shortly leave for the South. Leading bulls are supposed to have lightened their load a little but in the main have stood up to the rack and fought their opponents with great determination. Meantime it is argued that a big crop is absolutely imperative, failing which higher prices are likely to be recorded during the years 1910. Bears retort that any deficiency of supplies is offset by the curtailed production in this country and that Lancashire is facing a prolonged lock-out should the master spinners reduce wages 5 per cent. as seems to be their intention to do.

Manchester reports a good business, however, and bulls are skeptical about any lock-out. Persistent reports are received of recent damage by frost in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia, and the Carolinas. It is insisted that not only are stocks in Liverpool something like half a million bales smaller than a year ago but that supplies on the continent of Europe are down to a very moderate total to say the least. Large spot interests have been buying here. Buying in connection with the announcement of difficulties among cotton merchants in two Southern States and also at Havre has been to some extent a sustaining factor. Many experienced men regard the situation, however, as so unsettled that they are simply watching events.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.'S LETTER.

New York, April 29.—Cables this morning were rather better than due, but the feature of the market was of course the May notices, which were circulating freely before the opening. Tenders were estimated at about 150,000 bales, and as had been anticipated they were promptly absorbed by the larger longs causing no weakness in the market. Indeed, brisk covering from Europe appeared in the near positions on the opening, which brought a quick advance, the distant positions following in sympathy. After this demand had been satisfied the market eased again on realizing and southern selling of the distant months. Weather conditions were again excellent clear, warm weather being reported from parctically the entire belt, and in a measure this, with the slow selling from the South, offset the strength in the near months.

HUBBARD BROS & CO.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

New York, April 29.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Conditions of business are still irregular, but the volume of trade continues heavy. Certain unfavorable developments have apparently been exaggerated, and their effect upon business sentiment has been out of proportion to their real significance.

No concerted action has been taken to curtail production of pig iron.

No great amount of business is being done in the unfinished lines. Important contracts for structural material are pending. Rail requirements of the railroads apparently have been nearly filled.

The primary dry goods markets are steadier, but still rule generally quiet. Cotton goods are a shade firmer, as shown by an advance of 1-4 to a cent on drills and sheetings and curtailment of production is steadily increasing. It is seasonably quiet in the jobbing trade. Dress goods trade continues light.

A good volume of new orders for the next Fall run have been received by shoe manufacturers in all sections.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, April 29.—Cinch bugs in Kansas, hessian fly in Illinois and Missouri, dust worms in Oklahoma and high winds and drought in Nebraska—such were a few of the causes adduced here today for a wheat buying movement that carried prices up 1 7-8 to 2c to 2 1-4c from the low point of the day. The close was strong at almost the top, 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 to 1 3-4c higher than last night. Corn finished a shade down to 3-8 to 1-2 up. Oats made a net gain of 1-8c to 1-4c to 3-4 to 7-8c and provisions 5 to 37 1-2.

THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 29.—The stock market today felt the benefit of the corrective measures which have been applied to the weak points in the situation. The effect was especially notable in the money market where the call loan rate ran off to the lowest of the week. As today's loans on the stock exchange carry over until Monday this rate represents the end of the month condition, the conflict with the May settlements not being sufficient to keep the rate up. An important factor in this was the cotton market settlement, the heavy notices on May contracts being taken care of by the bull leaders in that market. Estimates of the week's currency movement showed a substantial inflow of cash from other points and a corresponding relief from the drain of the week's gold exports on dsub-treasury operations. The sum total of these withdrawals reached the imposing figure of $17,258,000. The publication of these estimates had its part in the easier tone which developed in the money market.

A strong influence was felt from the report that the western railroads have notified the interstate commerce commission that they will file schedules of increased freight rates next Monday.

Iron sales continued light. Concessions were made again in the prices for copper. The grain markets were in receipt of complaints of too dry weather. Railroad equipment companies, it was said noted a decline in demand which in the case of freight cars amounted to but fifty per cent. in April of the orders received in March. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $2,912,000. United States 4s registered decline 1-8c in the bid price on call.

Total sales for the day were 755,200 shares.

THE FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, April 29—Money on call strong 2 1-2 to 6 per cent., ruling rate 6, closing bid 39, offered at 3 1-4. Time loans firm sixty days and ninety days 4 1-4 to 4 1-2. Six months 4 1-2 to 4 3-4.

Prime mercantile paper 4 3-4 to 5 per cent. Sterling exchange weaker with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8440 to 50 for sixty day bills and at 4.8765 for demand. Commercial bills 4.83 3-4 to 4.84 1-4. Bar silver 51. Mexican dollars 44.

J. M. SOLKY & COMPANY --:Then Again:--

It is well to look beyond the outward appearance in selecting a suit of clothes, considering the reputation of the house back of it. The man who buys Strouse & Brothers, or B. Kuppenheimer & Co's. clothes is sure of one thing to begin with—that the faultless outward appearance is evidence of quality clear through.

The reputation of the house of J. M. Solky & Co., insures that. So then, when you walk in to the J. M. Solky & Co. store, you have but three questions to decide; the amount you care to spend, the pattern and the particular style that will best suit you in that pattern. You have here actually hundreds of patterns to choose from, and every fabric and style beyond criticism. We are quite willing that you should judge our standards of clothes value by any grade shown from $10.00 and upward. We ask you especially to see values at

There is no experimenting in buying the class of goods we handle, as Strouse & Brothers' clothing have been sold in WILMINGTON for thirty years and B. Kuppenheimer & Co.

bassador expressed the opinion that the United States possessed now, thanks to the munificence of the States and of private benefactors, all the institutions of that kind that would be required and that what was now needed was to develop the efficiency of these institutions by increasing the teaching staff, and by providing higher salaries so as to develop the teaching of those subjects which were less likely to be popular because they did not seem so directly practical but which, nevertheless, were essential to a well equipped university and a truly liberal education.

It was not only the applied sciences, Mr. Bryce thought, that ought to be provided for, such as agricultural chemistry and engineering, but also the theoretic sciences such as chemistry and physics and biology. There was an even greater danger today in all countries, in Europe as well as in America, of neglecting the literary or humanistic subjects such as philosophy, history and philelogy.

Therefore, the ambassador said, he would remind the students that in their college years they had to prepare themselves not only for their special vocation in life, be it commercial or professional, but also for life itself. They had to acquire those interests and tastes which would make the enjoyment of their after years.

They must learn to love literature and history; they must learn to think about those great things which had occupied the human mind in the past and were treated of in the works of the most famous men of older days. Let them never be afraid to spend time on studies which seemed remote from our own times. From the ancient writers of Greece and Rome, from the great poets of later times such as Dante and Shakespeare and Milton, there was still to be gathered such fruit as did not grow on any trees today. And let them remember in every study, be is scientific or literary and historical, the essential thing was to be thorough, to face and master every difficulty, to be sure that what one knew was known accurately.

JOHNSON DENIED.

Pugilist Not Allowed in Los Angeles Hotel as Guest.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 29.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was refused accommodations in Los Angeles hotels yesterday. On arriving here he traveled up Spring street in an automobile and immediately went to one of the best hostelries. With a considerable number of attendants he entered the lobby, but a few moments later the party departed and tried another hotel. The same excuse was offered for not receiving the black champion—the hotel was filled to its capacity. As Johnson refused to try to find lodging at any of the cheaper hotels, arrangements were made for his entertainment at the home of a negro editor.

SALES OF SPOT COTTON.

Senator Smith Wants Information as to the Sellers.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—"The investigation into the sales of cotton which Attorney General Wickersham is conducting, has cost the American people nearly $40,000,000."

So asserted Senator Smith, of South Carolina, in the Senate today.

He was making a speech in the hope of persuading the Senate to adopt the resolution directing the Attorney General to ascertain the names of the persons who sold the cotton to the New York pool.

Mr. Smith said that whereas only $40,000,000 worth of manufactured goods had been exported last year, $600,000,000 worth of raw cotton had been sent abroad. This year the cotton exportations, he said, would be about $800,000,000.

"The attorney general is investigating the sales of spot cotton. I want him to investigate the sellers—to find out who were engaged in trying to put down the price. I want him to inquire as to the gentlemen who got together and sold the cotton without having it to sell. His investigation, so far as it has gone, has depressed the price to the extent of a cent a pound, a total cost to the people at large of $40,000,000. Let him extend the inquiry so as to show the real facts."

The resolution was adopted. It directs the attorney general to inquire as to the names of the party or parties or corporations that sold the cotton alleged to have been bought by a pool of purchasers who are now under investigation by the department of Justice;" also as to the prices, "whether or not they owned the cotton at the time of the sale thereof; and the price of spot cotton in the South on the date of the contracts."

Senator Clay introduced a bill prohibiting the transmission by mail, telephone or telegraph of all information concerning future sales of cotton.

SIMMONS AND OVERMAN.

Tar Heel Senators Object to Grouping in Syndicate Picture.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Washington, D. C., April 28.—A smart newspaper picture syndicate has put Senators Simmons and Overman in a bad light on the front pages of some of the North Carolina papers. If the old story, that birds of a feather flock together still holds good, the friends of the Tar Heel statesmen have cause for kicking. In the picture, which was printed in two or more of the State papers, Messrs. Simmons and Overman are side by side with Attorney General Wickersham, and beneath it is the announcement that these are responsible for the raid on the stock exchange.

"If the syndicate pictures conveyed the idea", said Senator Simmons, "that we had in any way assisted in the cotton exchange investigation or had any sympathy with same, they were misleading. We have not had anything to do with it, and have no sympathy with it. On the contrary, we felt that the action, whether so intended or not, was to relieve certain parties of contracts for cotton they had sold and did not want to deliver."

TRAGEDY IN CHARLESTON.

Young Woman Shot and Southern Railway Conductor Wounded.

Charleston, S. C., April 29.—Miss Margaret Musgrave, 22 years old, is dead and Clarence E. Grimshawe, a conductor on the Southern Railway, is seriously wounded as the result of a mysterious shooting on a lonely causeway last night. The young man and the girl were out walking together. About 10 o'clock Grimshawe staggered to the city hospital saying he had been shot. The police went to the scene and found Miss Musgrave lying on the ground desperately wounded. Residents of the neighborhood heard five shots but there were no witnesses. The girl died this morning. The coroner obtained an ante-mortem statement but has not made it public.

Although at first stating that the shooting was done by an unknown negro, the police are now considering other theories and it is expected that interesting developments may follow.

Miss Musgrove died at the city hospital early this morning, a few hours after the shooting. Grimshaw's wounds are regarded as dangerous. The latter in a statement made today declared that he was walking with the girl along the causeway when a shadowy form bust out of some bushes and fired the shots which wounded him and led to the death of the girl. Miss Musgrove made an ante-mortem statement which will be read to the coroner's jury tomorrow.

ESCAPE BY SWIMMING.

Alleged Blind Tiger Regains Freedom on Way to Prison.

Natchez, April 29.—"Alleged blind tigerism" and apparent clear-sightedness were the paradoxical elements figuring in the escape of Herbert Walter near here yesterday.

Walter, arrested in Concordia parish, La., for illicit selling of whiskey, was placed on a steamer for conveyance to Cidaloa, La.

Before that harbor was reached, Walter jumped overboard, outswam the boat to the bank and escaped.

WRECK ON SEABOARD

Engineer Killed in Plunge of Florida Train Into River.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 29.—A combination freight and passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line plunged into Little river near Tallehassee about 1:30 this morning killing J. S. Weeks, the engineer. The cause of the wreck was a burned trestle which could not be discovered in time because of a sharp curve. Officials are making an investigation.

WESTON'S FOOT HURTS HIM.

Pedestrian May Not do More Than Twenty Miles Today.

Hudson, N. Y., April 29.—Weston's injured foot still bothered him considerably when he resumed his trans-continental walk here at 12:50 o'clock this morning.

He expected to make his next stop at Rhinebreck, twenty miles south of Hudson. He said that any plans of pushing further before night would depend upon his condition later in the day.

ANOTHER COTTON FAILURE.

Columbus, Mississippi, House Goes Into Bankruptcy Court.

Columbus, Miss., April 29.—Closely following the failure of Knight, Yancey & Co., of Decatur, Ala., Steel, Miller & Co., a spot cotton firm with headquarters at Corinth, Miss., and branches at Columbus and other towns throughout East Mississippi, went into bankruptcy today.

Neither the assets nor liabilities can be ascertained at this time, but it is said the liabilities will be more than a million dollars. The Columbus office did business with a local banking company, but this institution will not suffer as a result of the failure, as it holds receipts for more than enough cotton to cover the indebtedness of the firm.

Augusta, Ga., April 29.—General E. P. Alexander died in Savannah yesterday, was buried here today. A private car from Savannah brought a large party. The Confederates of Augusta in uniform accompanied the remains to the grave. The bugle corps of the confederate camps of Augusta sounded taps.
